DIXIECRAT PRINCIPLES

(Philadelphia Bulletin)

Senator Ellender, of Louisiana, is to be the leader in putting through the senate for the second time a measure granting federal aid to education. The bill passed the last senate, supported by such a conservative Republican as Senator Taft, only to die in a house committee. Estimates are that the first year's cost of the measure would be $300,000,000.

The south would be the chief beneficiary of federal aid. Most of the southern states are too poor to arise by themselves enough money to give adequate education to their children. Many southern states give a higher percentage of their revenue to the support of schools than do some northern states. But it is not enough.

Unless the United States is ready to admit that with all its wealth it can't afford to give a decent education to some thousands of its children, federal aid is a necessity.

Senator Ellender's state was one of those that gave their electoral votes to the States Rights party. It is an interesting comment on that party's principles that Louisiana is more than ready to take federal money while clinging to its rights. The Dixiecrats are not so principle-minded that they can't tell the color of federal money when they see it.

BURDEN OF THE BERLIN AIRLIFT

Whatever Russia's purpose may have been in establishing the Berlin blockade it is paying red dividends of a size which is becoming burdensome to the United States. So far the airlift has been able to feed the people in that city, but at an increasingly high cost.

Planes badly needed for military transport in other parts of the world have been sent to Germany, together with ground crews and other personnel. Half of the Army's big C-54 transports are now flying the Berlin route.

Because they are in constant service planes are wearing out at three times the normal speed, and it is estimated $250,000,000 will be needed for repairs and replacements. So far no arrangements have been made for this sum. And with all this cost and effort Berlin remains on a meager relief basis.

There is a minimum of food, no coal for home heating, and the city's industries operate at less than 50 per cent of normal capacity.

Cost in money has been reported as $385,000 a day. This includes normal pay for the Air Force, plus depreciation. But it does not include what the Army is spending. The actual total cost is believed to be $500,000 a day, which will increase greatly as the service is expanded to meet changing conditions.

Russia knew what she was doing when she imposed the blockade.

Pupils Present Panel Discussion For Kiwanis Club

A panel discussion on "Strengthening The Foundations of Freedom" was presented before the Kiwanis club at its noon meeting Thursday by a group of pupils of the Jacksonville public schools. Prepared for a recent observance of National Education Week, the program has been given for a number of civic organizations.

Miss Della Simmons of the David Prince Junior High school faculty accompanied the pupils to the meeting. She outlined the purposes of education in a short talk, after which the pupils appeared.

Pupils participating in the discussion were George Fox, chairman; Sharon Dowland, Bobby Jacobs, Florence Ritchie, Bob Carpenter, Sally Barnhart and Barbara Whalen.

Fun And Confusion At The Toy Show

By George Tucker (For Hal Boyle)

New York—The toy show is lots of fun.

It trotted its sponsors and scared the daylight out of little Santa Claus, Jr., but the kids are having a whale of a time.

The sponsors were agitated because the show wasn't ready to open on time at the New York Museum of Science and Industry the other day. When they let the bars down, only the reporters and carpenters were there.

The reporters stood around waiting for something to report while the carpenters frenziedly hammered hoots together and erected tunnels for disappearing trains and other mechanical gadgets which will be amazing the youngsters all through Christmas month.

Even Santa Claus was late. His uniform got there but they forgot to send his beard. With him, too, was Santa, Jr., and before they got them together and ready to appear they had to swap mustaches and send out for an extra beard.

This was Santa, Jr.'s first appearance at the toy show. Sometime ago the children of a New York institution were asked how old they thought Santa really was. "About ten," they said.

So Master Arthur Levine, aged 9, was plucked from the New York founding home and told "you're it." Santa Was Unhappy

Santa, Jr. was an unhappy young man in the early hours of the show. His face lost its color. He never smiled. The sudden confusion of screaming children and exploding flashlight bulbs left them terrified. I won't blame him.

At this moment a tall, brone figure clad in buckskin bounded upon the scene. He lifted his right arm, palm outward.

"How," he cried. "Me Chief Flying Cloud."

"Hey, hey," screamed the kiddies. "Where's your gun?"

"Me good Indian."

"Makes no difference—you ought to have a gun."

Wiggling out of this situation, Chief Flying Cloud said: "Many Indians live about here. Maybe 50,000. They no have Indian names. Call selves Jones, Brown, Smith — like you."

"Where's Your Gun?" "I said, where's your gun?" a little boy screamed. But before the Indian could think of an answer another tugged his fringed leggings and demanded, "What's your name?"

"Me Flying Cloud."

"No, no—I mean your real name—like the Smiths and the Jones."

"I'm glad you asked," replied Chief Flying Cloud. "I am the Rev. Dr. Lucas, a Cherokee out of Oklahoma. I have eleven degrees from eleven universities and a four-story building in Richmond, Va. I am also in charge of three Indian village here."

The Indian village, also was no more ready for inspection than other parts of the show. Not a tepee was showing, though just then a strong-arm gang came in to set the huts and other accoutrements into place.

Nevertheless, there were many dazzling and wonderful toys, and the kids were transported.

The accent this year is on mechanical toys—gadgets that move. Educators say the closer toys come to reality the better for children as they mature. The big-wheeled monsters of contemporary adult life won't come as so much of a surprise.

There were deep-sea divers, so realistic they breathed under water, sending bubbles to the surface. They were a foot tall and operated in a two-foot tank of water. Their "life line" was a rubber tube. When you squeezed the bulb, the diver rose to the surface. When you released it, he sank feet first, in approved fashion.

The mechanical hobby horses that galloped at the touch of a stirrup found great favor with the youngsters. After one gallop, one little fellow couldn't rid himself of the sensation that he was still riding. "Mama, I'm still galloping," he cried.

Greenfield Couple To Fight Education Law

Why Dutch is Growing a Beard

That beard on a Miller's chin doesn't mean that he's getting ready to play Santa Claus. He's simply paying off the election bet he lost to Cappy Swanson.

And while some folks allow it's all a lot of nonsense—like the wheelbarrow ride that Cappy had to give Dutch after last election day—from where I sit, it's a mighty wholesome aftermath to a difference of opinion.

Because good Americans all take their politics and voting mighty seriously. But when the issue's settled, and the die is cast, they accept the verdict in a spirit of good humor.

And that's as it should be when it comes to any difference of opinion. Some folks vote for beer as their favorite beverage—others vote for cider. In fact, we all have differences of taste in almost everything! But that doesn't mean that we can't live together in a spirit of good fellowship.

Mayor Describes History Of City Water Department

Jacksonville citizens today turned on water faucets as a matter of fact gesture, giving little thought to where the water comes from. Eighty years ago it was different.

Mayor Ernest L. Hoagland pointed out Wednesday in a talk to the Optimist club. There was a time when the feasibility of building a water plant and laying mains was a highly controversial question—many of the citizens of that day didn't believe a water system was necessary.

During the first 40 years of its existence, Jacksonville depended on wells and cisterns. It was not until after the civil war that some of the progressive citizens began talking about a water system.

Mayor Hoagland referred to Joseph O. King as the father of the city water system. King was aided by Dr. George Bibb, David B. Smith and S. W. Nichols in fostering plans for a water system. These men paid most of the expense of an election, at which the proposition carried 670 to 61.

As the election was merely a test of sentiment, the question continued for several years. The Jacksonville's first water system was built at a cost of $150,000, with a capacity of 125,000 gallons per day.

The mayor traced the history of the water system down through the years, during which several expansions were made. The first plant drew its supply from Morgan lake. Later a series of deep wells were drilled. The Wideman-Daub wells in the northeast section of this city are still in existence and have been used during emergencies on several occasions.

Jacksonville now consumes 2,800,000 gallons of water daily, supplied from Lake Jacksonville and Lake Mauvaisterre, which have a combined storage capacity of more than 3,000,000,000.

The mayor described to the Optimists the expansion of the filtration plant which is now nearing completion. The plant will handle 4,000,000 gallons per day. He said the increase in water revenue and the growth in the number of meters indicate that Jacksonville has added several thousand persons to its population during the last ten years.

Mayor Hoagland was introduced by Dr. John Wright, chairman of the program committee.

President Paul Fenstermaker announced a district Optimist meeting to be held next Monday, Dec. 6, at 6:30 p.m. at the Abraham Lincoln hotel at Springfield. A delegation of local clubmen will attend.

Reports on club projects were given by Col. John Taylor and Attorney Andrew Orniston.

Motor Company Erects Building

The Poole Motor Company has begun the erection of a concrete and steel building on a lot between North Main and Sandy streets, adjoining its main building on the south. The new structure, 26 by 85 feet, will be used as a paint shop and warehouse.

The work is being done by Hugh Gibson, contractor.

C. O. Poole, president of the company, said the new building will relieve crowded conditions in the main building, where a number of new testing machines and other equipment will be installed.

The new paint shop and warehouse is expected to be ready for occupancy on or before Jan. 1.

Waltz into Darkness

BY WILLIAM IRISH

THE STORY: During, having married once more to his wife, fascination, tells her they can't return to New Orleans because Down is now on her trail. They had best go to another large city, where they can lose themselves.

XXX

MOBILE, then. They went to the finest hotel there, and like the bride and groom they were in everything but count of time, they took their finest suits, their bridal suite, Chamber and sitting room, height of luxury, lace curtains over the windows, maroon drapes, Turkish carpeting thick on the floors, and even that seldom-met-with innovation, a private bath of their own.

Bellhops danced attendance on them from morning to night, and all eyes were on them every time they came and went through the public rooms below. The petite blond, always so dainty, so exquisitely dressed, with the tall dark man beside her, eyes for no one else. "That romantic pair from—" Nobody knew just where, but everybody knew who was meant.

Every sprightly supper resort in town knew them, every gay and brightly lighted gathering place, every theater, public ball, entertainment, minstrelsy. Every time the violins played, somewhere, anywhere, she was in his arms there, turning in the endless, fevered spirals of the waltz. Every time the moon was full, she was in his arms there, somewhere, in a halted carriage, heads close together, sweetness of magnolia all around, gazing up at it with dreamy, wondering eyes.

Mobile, then, in the flood tide of their romance; and all was rapture, all was love.

INCREASINGLY uncomfortable, and extremely bored in addition, feeling that all eyes were on him, he paced back and forth in the modiste's anteroom, and at last, in spite of his em-every turn seemed to come into collision with some hurrying young girl carrying fresh bolts of goods into a curtained recess behind which Bonny had disappeared an interminable length of time previously.

"I cannot decide! The more you bring in to show me, the harder it becomes to settle on one. No, leave that, I may come back to it."

SUDDENLY the curtains parted, gripped by restraining hands just below the breach, so that it could not spread downward, and her head, no more, peered through.

"Lou, am I taking dreadfully long? I just remembered you, out there."

"Long, but not dreadfully," he answered gallantly.

"Why don't you leave and then call back for me again?" she suggested generously.

"How soon shall I come back?"

"You had best give me a full hour and a half, I shall need that much. Or if you tire in the meantime, go straight back to the hotel, and I'll follow you there."

He took up his hat with alacrity, glad to make his escape.

Her bodyless face formed its lips into a pout.

"Why don't you go to say good-bye to me?"

She touched her lips to show him what she meant, closed her eyes expectantly.

"In front of all these people?"

"Oh dear, how you talk! One would think you weren't my husband at all. I assure you it's perfectly proper, in such a case."

He stepped over to the curtains, coloring slightly, peeked at her lips, turned, and got out of the place.

Strangely, in spite of his embarrassment, he had a flattered, self-important feeling at the same time; he wondered how she had been able to give him that, and whether she had known she was doing it when she did. And secretly decided that she had.

She knew every cause, she knew every effect, she knew how to achieve them. Everything she did, she knew she did.

He set out to enjoy the afternoon sunlight, and the blue Gulf reaching to the horizon, and the crowd of strollers drifting along the shoreline promenade.

The slow baking warmth of the sun was pleasant on his shoulders and his back, and occasionally a little salty breeze would come, just enough to temper it. Clouds that were thick and unshadowed as egg white broke the monotony of the sky, and on everyone's face there was a smile—as there must have been on his, he at last realized, for what he was seeing was the unthinking answer to his own smile, offered by face after face in passing.

He had money enough now for a long while to come, and she loved him—she had shown it by inducing him to kiss her in front of a shopful of girls. What more was there to wish for?

After two complete circuits of the walking space provided, he stopped at last by the wooden rail flanking it, and rested his elbows on it, and stood in contemplation with his back to the slow-moving ambulators he had just been a member of.

He had been at rest that way for perhaps two or three minutes, no more, when he became conscious of that rather curiously compelling sensation that is received when someone's eyes are fixed on one steadfastly, from behind.

There was no time to be warned. The impulse was to turn and seek out the cause, and before he could check it he had done so.

He found himself staring full into the face of Downs, the St. Louis investigator, just as Downs was now staring full into his.

AAU Convention Under Way In N. Y.

New York, Dec. 2.—(P)—The 60th annual convention of the amateur athletic union of the United States, which President James A. Rhodes predicted would be the "greatest ever," got under way today with a luncheon meeting for all the organization's committee members.

The full convention will hold its first general session tomorrow, then launch into a series of committee meetings in which the many groups will prepare reports and recommendations involving their particular sports for the convention at large.

Today's activities were devoted principally to the registration of nearly 400 delegates representing all 13 district associations and more than 30 allied bodies. It is the first AAU convention to be held in New York since the stormy 1935 gathering prior to the 1936 olympics.

"This will be the greatest convention in AAU history," said Rhodes, mayor of Columbus, Ohio, in greeting the committee heads, whom he described as the "lifeline of the AAU." He called for a strengthening of the organization's foreign policy and expansion of the Junior Olympics program.

A session for the executive and foreign relations committees and a joint meeting of the men's and women's swimming committees rounded out the opening day's program.

It was disclosed that Mrs. Fanny Blankers-Koen of Holland, the feminine sensation of the 1948 olympics.

Novak Elected PGA President

Dunedin, Fla., Dec. 2.—(P)—Joe Novak of Los Angeles beat out golf star Horton Smith today for the leadership of the professional golfers association.

The heavyset, affable Novak succeeds Ed Dudley of Augusta, Ga., who retired after seven years as PGA president. Novak received 47 votes to 26 for Smith who is a Detroit pro.

Novak has served as PGA secretary for three years. Back in 1939 he was a vice-president. For 21 years he has been the pro at the "Air Country Club" in Los Angeles. Dudley said he was giving up the GA's top post because everything is going all right and "I'm sure there are other men who can handle" GA's golfing program.

Trading activity contracted a bit when the advance failed to hold. Turnover was at a rate of around 1,300,000 shares for the full session.

The morning upturn was a carry-over from yesterday's smart advance, which stopped a long downward slide.

Lamotta Meets Tommy Yarosz At The Garden

New York, Dec. 2.—(P)—How much does Jake LaMotta have left?

That's the question before the house at Madison Square Garden tomorrow night when the "Bronx Bull" faces Tommy Yarosz of Monaca, Pa., in the feature 10-rounder.

For Yarosz, a personable 26-year-old battler who never hit the top, this represents the big break.

An exciting win over LaMotta could land him an over-the-weight match with Marcel Cerdan, the middleweight match with Marcel Cerdan, the middleweight champ.

LaMotta is in a different position. He has to re-establish himself because he was knocked out by the first time in his life by young Billy Fox when he last showed in the garden a year ago.

That loss prompted an investigation by the New York State Athletic commission and an indefinite suspension and $1,000 fine for Jake. He was set down for "concealing vital facts about his physical condition before the fight."

After LaMotta's suspension was lifted June 21 he fought three bouts in small local clubs, winning two by knockouts and one on a decision. There were varied reports on his performances.

Philadelphia, Dec. 2.—(P)—A university president kicked today about what has happened to college football.

The game has been kidnapped from the players, he said, and made a sacrifice to victory and box office success.

Dr. William S. Carlson emphasized he was not delivering a harangue on the purity of intercollegiate athletics, pro or con. He just feels that America's colleges are going to have to live a long time with their gigantic offsprings—football.

"And if the offspring is at times a Frankenstein's monster which threatens to obliterate the aims of the college itself," said the university of Delaware head, "at least it is a monster of the colleges' own making."

Dr. Carlson told the middle Atlantic States Collegiate Athletic conference that any respected college has a reputation and a tradition of disinterested service which must apply even to the entertainment which they retail in the form of football.

The touchy civil rights issue, which cost the president the electoral votes of four states, was injected suddenly in the concluding session of an otherwise harmonious conference.

A resolution endorsing the president's program was rejected, 21 to 23.

It was introduced by Harry Kranz of Newark, representing the New Jersey CIO council, as the last item of business. The big conference room was still crowded but only 44 voting delegates—made up of state labor commissioners and union leaders appointed to the conference by various state governors—remained on hand to cast ballots.

Ben T. Hulet, Georgia state labor commissioner, led the fight against the resolution. Hulet cried:

"Leave us alone and we'll leave you alone. We'll treat the colored man right. He knows that."

Although Lucy Gordon Mason of Georgia, Charles Weber of Virginia, and Robert Eckhardt of Texas all spoke for the Kranz resolution, the vote was against them.

Four Jacksonville Basketball Squads In Action Tonight

There's basketball aplenty tonight with all four of the local cage crews going into action. Two of them, I.S.D. and Routh tangle in the first intra-city contest of the season at the westend gymnasium at 7 p.m., in the only home game on the card.

Jacksonville high entrains for Springfield where they meet a tough Feitshans quintet, and Al Miller's Blueboys swing into their hoop opener against Concordia College at St. Louis.

Rockets' First Game The local conflict will be the first game for Paul Stroud's Rockets. They will engage a Tiger five with experience from two games under its belts.

The Wilsonmen dropped their opener to Franklin 32 to 31, then thrilled a Jacksonville crowd with a 33 to 31 victory over the Waverly Scotties Tuesday night on the local boards. The game is a PMBC conference tilt, and should be to an interesting battle to the local fans.

Wilson Named Five Wilson named his starting lineup with Nunes, and Cecil at the forwards, Hood at center, and Yates and Kwiat in the guard positions. Nunes is a local boy who started the season on the reserve five, but developed rapidly, flipping in nine counters against Waverly, and was promoted to a starting position by the Tiger mentor for tonight's contest. Spike stood pat on the rest of his first five; boys who have started the previous two games.

Stroud Uncertain Paul Stroud at the east side school has a six man varsity, and as yet, remains uncertain on his starting quint. He named Kennedy, Lonerog and Tighe at the forward posts, with his indecision resting between the latter two boys. Kennedy is a certain starter in the fray. Big Paul Saner will work in the pivot position and Murphy and Spreen were selected to start at guard. Stroud also predicted that Cobb, Lawless and Casler will see plenty of action tonight.

Miller Hampered By Injuries Illinois college and Kraushaar's Crimsons voted to travel tonight. Injuries have riddled the Blueboy lineup to the extent that Al Miller wouldn't even venture to guess his starting lineup. Barney Vilk and Art Wilson will certainly see no action since they both suffer from leg injuries sustained in football. The Hilltop mentor states that any of his ten cagers are potential starters, and prefers to keep the initial five to himself. Murrin, Gross, Longer, Shouse, Grove, Billings, Lasley, Due, Clark, and Degroot will all dress for the game. Paul Lasley, a local boy, and only a freshman at I.C., has been showing well in practice sessions, and may jump into a first team berth before too many games have passed.

The Millermen return to Jacksonville for a home game against Blackburn college Saturday night on the I.S.D. floor, with the varsity playing at 9 p.m. and Joe Brooks' 'B' squad entertaining the Neco Independents in a curtain raiser at 7.

Crimsons At Feitshans Williams, and Todd, at forwards, Chapman at Center, with Spots and Busey bringing the ball down will compose Bob Kraushaar's starting lineup as his J.H.S. Crimsons jump the Flyers from Feitshans in their season. Stan Spots is expected to first basketball game abroad this carry the brunt of the Jacks' attack, after his brilliant showing against the Virginia Redheads Tuesday night. Kraushaar hopes that Gerald Busey, half pint running mate of Spots', can pick up where he left off against the Redheads, when he dropped in 8 counters in the last canto to help the Crimsons edge the Virginia five 48 to 42.

Feitshans boasts an unbeaten record so far this campaign, with one especially impressive victory over a fine Lincoln quint. However, the County Court of Morgan County, Illinois, and that claims may be filed against the said estate on or before said date

Texas Man Buys Prized Cattle At Exposition; Old Records Shattered

Chicago, Dec. 2.—(AP)—A wealthy Texas business man paid record prices today for grand champion cattle at the 49th International Livestock Exposition.

Glenn McCarthy, 40-year-old Houston oil man, rancher, movie producer and hotel owner, paid a total of $29,402 for the grand and reserve grand champion steers and the grand champion carload of baby beeves.

Tall and bareheaded, the Texan said the prize cattle would be served to guests at the opening of his Shamrock hotel in Houston, March 17. Prices will be "normal," he said.

The grand champion, a 1,200 pound Aberdeen-Angus shown by C. E. Yoder & Sons, Muscatine, Ia., brought $10,750 a pound. The previous high price for a grand champion at the international was $10.50 in 1946.

The average good and choice grade steer on the Chicago market is selling for around 35 cents a pound and weighs less than 550 pounds.

The reserve grand champion, Texaco, a 1,200 pound Hereford fattened by members of the Peccos county 4-H club of Fort Stockton, Tex., sold for $4 a pound, 75 cents more than the 1947 record.

McCarthy then picked up another 15 head, paying 77 cents a pound for Karl Hoffman's prize load of 15 Herefords. Hoffman, a perennial winner in carlot competition, is from Ida Grove, Ia. His load weighed a total of 14,730 pounds.

The Texan paid a total of $12,900 for the grand champion, $5,160 for the reserve champion, and $11,342 for the prize carload.

The grand champion carload of hogs, Poland-Chinas, shown by Walter Schlichting, of Apple River, Ill., weighed a total of $35.75 a hundred pounds.

Schlichting's winning load last year brought him $36.25 a hundred pounds. The top price, $37 a hundred, was set in 1946. Successful bidder today was Oscar Mayer & Son, Chicago meat packers. The load of 27 hogs weighed a total of 6,430 pounds.

Lambs To N. J.
The grand champion car load of Southdown lambs was sold for seventy-one cents a pound, a new record, to the Miller Abattoirs, North Bergen, N. J. The highest previous price at the international was sixty-eight cents at the 1946 show. Shown by Ben Disch & Sons, Evansville, Wis. The 50 lambs averaged 86.2 pounds and were sold for a total of $3,053.

Other top sales today included the champion carload of Shorthorn steers. Shown by Nelson Farms, Geneseo, Ill., the 15 animals, weighing a total of 13,840 pounds, sold for $40.50 a hundred weight. The purchaser was Cross Brothers, Philadelphia, Pa.

The champion carload of Aberdeen-Angus, 15 steers weighing a total of 15,350 pounds, was sold for $42.50 a hundred pounds. The successful bidder was the Gallagher Steakhouse, New York City. The prize load was exhibited at the show by Schmidt Brothers of Maquoketa, Ia.

New Drying Equipment Inspected By Farmers

By The Journal Courier Farm Editor
Many progressive farmers of Morgan and surrounding counties turned out Thursday to inspect the performance of a portable, all-purpose crop drier. The machine, new to this area, was busy at its task of bringing the moisture content of 2,500 bushels of ear corn down to 18-20%.

The corn now bears about 28% moisture as it lays in the new crib built at Green Meadows, the R. P. Wilson farm just east of Chapin on Route 104.

The demonstration was conducted by Frank W. Andrews, agricultural extension engineer, University of Illinois, and Charles D. Mitchell of Lexington, Ky., salesman for the Peirson-Moore company of that city.

They shut off the humming fan of the oil-burning drier for a short time while Mr. Andrews showed and discussed a few slides illustrating the problem of crop storage and how wet crops may be dried. The speaker was assisted by Fred E. Darr of Petersburg, power use adviser for the Menard REA cooperative.

Uses Fuel Oil
Although the drier weighs almost 1,500 pounds, it is mounted on a rubber-tired trailer chassis and may be moved easily. It is designed to elevate the temperature of the atmosphere about 40 degrees. Twin burners use five gallons of No. 1 fuel oil per hour. The heated air is pushed through the stored crop by a pair of 32-inch propeller fans whirled by a five-horse, 220 volt motor. The machine sells for $1,485; operating costs are estimated at $1 per hour.

Mr. Andrews said the cash expense for farm drying is approximately five cents per bushel for drying from 24% down to 16%, and about one-half cent for each percent of difference otherwise.

Depends On Weather
Only one-half of the west side of the 10,000 bushel capacity crib was being treated with the circulating heated air Thursday. Mr. Mitchell declined to hazard a guess on how long it would take to bring down the moisture level to 18-20%.

"Maybe 200 hours, more or less, depending altogether on the weather. After all the machine must bring out more than 10 tons of excess water," he said.

Three sides of the crib were sealed with sisal-paper, permitting the warm air to leave the crib only through the west side and the top. The air entered the crib through a duct made of lumber and tarpaulin. It is about just one-half as high as the mound of corn.

Millions of dollars worth of farm crops are damaged or ruined by weather each year. Specialists say about a fourth of the hay crop is lost annually.

Some of those who attended yesterday's demonstration said they expected the portable type drier to be

Three Teen Agers Arrested After Drinking Party

New York, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Three teen agers, one the daughter of a wealthy advertising executive, were arrested today as an aftermath of what police said was a wild drinking party at the home of the girl's absent parents.

All three were charged with illegal possession of weapons.

Paroled after a felony court hearing was Barbara Kem, 16, of suburban Hollis while Charles Crawford, 19, and Charles Davis, 16, a negro, were held in $2,500 bail each for a hearing Dec. 8.

Parents of the girl told police they had given her "everything her heart could desire," and couldn't "understand why it happened."

Police said this is what happened: Returning home last night the Kemps found Barbara missing and the house ransacked. Partly empty bottles of liquor were in the basement rumpled room and a hole had been shot through a mattress.

Meanwhile a policeman had arrested the trio on suspicion. Crawford carried a .45 caliber pistol taken from the Kemp home and Davis had a .32 caliber weapon.

'Cello Artist To Give Concert Here Tonight

Gregor Piatigorski, "the veteran American 'cellist," will appear in concert at the high school auditorium Friday evening, Dec. 3, at 8:15. This is the fifth of the MacMurray College concert-lecture series.

"I do not like to be called 'the Russian 'cellist,'" says Mr. Piatigorski, who has made twenty American tours since 1929.

"I have been an American citizen since 1942. I study American history and politics. I have my home in the Adirondacks. I feel I know the American people, and America is my spiritual as well as physical home-land now. So please, if you speak of me, call me 'the veteran American 'cellist.' That makes me very proud."

The famous Montagnana on which Mr. Piatigorski will play was made in 1739 and is one of the finest works of its time. The artist affectionately calls it "The Sleeping Princess," and it is like a living person to him. He says, earnestly and seriously, that when he is sick, the 'cello also suffers, and when he is fit, the 'cello is equally vital. He likes to tell how he made it his, in a sense other than that of physical possession.

When he got it in London, it had not been played in almost a century. It had been buried in an old English country estate as part of a collection of rare instruments.

"The tone was marvelous," says Piatigorski, "but the 'cello was still asleep—a 'Sleeping Princess.' It took me nearly a year to get it to awaken. I was disappointed when I first played it. I felt that it was not yet used to life. But at each concert it became a little more awake until it blossomed into its full glory. Finally it was living and really mine!"

Considerable interest will go to the announcement of the names of the two 1948 recipients of the Silver Beaver award given by the council for outstanding service to boyhood.

At least 20 of the 126 Scout units of the 1948 President's Award for outstanding recruiting achievement, Scout and Cub units from Springfield, Pawnee, Ailey, Waverly, Virden, Taylorville, Edinburg and Hillsboro are included on the list.

Other items of interest on the program will be Council President's message, presentation of annual reports, and the election of Council officers. Inasmuch as this will be a "ladies night" program, a musical program by the Reveilles, an outstanding male quartette has been included on the program.

All friends of Scouting, as well as those directly associated with the Council are invited to attend. Tickets or reservations can be arranged for thru local Chairmen and Field Executives or with the Scout Headquarters office at Springfield.

Home Bureau Adviser Conducts Training School

During the business session, conducted by Mrs. H. P. Joy, chairman, the board discussed the success of the recent hobby show and made plans to sponsor their annual puppet show on March 30-31. The date of the spring rummage sale was set for April 9.

It was announced that the board will serve the noon meal at the annual Morgan county Farm Bureau meeting, Dec. 21. Board members will also serve at the Scott county Rural Youth banquet to be held in Bluffs, Jan. 26.

Films Bid For Princess

Stockholm — (AP) — Five-year-old Princess Christina may soon become the heroine of a fairy-tale.

The princess, who is the daughter of Sweden's widowed Princess Sibylla and Prince Adolf, killed in a plane accident last year, has been considered for the lead in a motion picture for Svensk Filmindustri, the Swedish artist Einar Nerman said. So far, Princess Sibylla has not decided whether to accept the offer, he added.

Nerman will be co-director of the picture, which will be filmed in color and probably based on a fairy-tale by the Danish Hans Christian Andersen. Princess Christina would play the title role "Liza Thumb," a female equivalent to "Tom Thumb."

Nerman sailed for the United States aboard the Swedish American liner "Stockholm." He is going to New York to work as a cartoonist.

League Of Nations Museum Raises Ghosts

Geneva — (AP) — One end of the United Nations European headquarters building her is haunted. In a small room with heavy carpets just off the library is the League of Nations museum. There are no cobwebs, no rustling curtains, no long shadows. But here, in the beribboned documents, the fading photographs, in the once bold, now meaningless autographs, lie buried the high hopes of another generation.

A modest, almost meager, display of busts, paintings, photographs and papers portrays the birth, slow strangulation and death of the League of Nations. Woodrow Wilson and Paul Boncour look down from their frames on the wall. There is Leon Blum, looking young and active and Paul-Henri Spaak looking still younger. Maxim Litvinoff, once the Soviet Union's foreign commissar, now retired, shares a spot with crowning Gustav Stresemann, Lord Halifax and Dino Grandi.

One photograph shows Litvinoff talking over a table with the late Pierre Laval of France. Halile Selassie, looking frail and flustered, is shown during one of his visits to the league to plead for sanctions against Italy. There is a picture of Benito Mussolini receiving the league's economic committee in 1927. One could not picture this man with the jutting chin, the stern eyes and folded arms hanging by his heels in front of an Italian gasoline station.

In one glass case is the yellowed telegram protesting about troubles on the Greek-Bulgarian frontier in 1925. There are still troubles there.

Tracks Picture Extinct Animal

Berkeley, Calif.—(AP)—A scientist has worked out an ingenious way to tell what an extinct animal looked like merely by studying its tracks. Some animals lived so long ago that fossil footprints are the only evidence of their existence. Such a creature was the chirotherium, a reptile which lived about 200 million years ago. The tracks of its hind feet resemble prints made by a human hand. Dr. Frank E. Peabody, University of California paleontologist, coated salamanders to walk across sheets of smoked paper and layers of mud in his laboratory. From the resulting tracks he learned how to describe a modern salamander. The size and depth of the tracks told him something about the size and weight of the animal. The length and width of the stride added other data. Orientation of the feet gave other facts. A lot was gained from what he called "pace angulation"—

the angle formed by three consecutive steps. Then he worked on some 20-million-year old salamander tracks. These results indicated the method applied to chirotherium tracks would give a similarly accurate picture. Dr. Peabody concluded that the chirotheria, which lived long before the dinosaur, varied in weight and size ranging from that of a chicken to a beast standing about 6 feet high at the hips. He has been able to predict what its bones should look like.

The university's excavators already have found in Arizona some fossil bone fragments which may turn out to be the first skeletal remains of a chirotherium. However, they are not sure yet.

14-Year-Old Boy Held At Carrollton In Burglary Case

Carrollton—Harry E. Wease, 14-year-old White Hall boy, is being held in the Greene county jail here on a charge of burglary. The youth, who was released on parole from St. Charles in June, 1947, is charged with burglarizing the C. B. & Q.

railroad office, the Lyons Coal company and the LaCrosse Lumber company, all of White Hall, Sunday night. A small amount of pennies was all that was taken from any of the three places.
 The Widdowson Lumber company office here was also entered Sunday evening. The door of the safe was blown off, but nothing was disturbed in the safe. There was no money in the safe and the papers which were stored there were left. The job was apparently the work of an expert.
 E. Lynch of the state criminal and identification bureau of Springfield was here Monday afternoon taking finger prints.

Pigeon's Force Church Repairs

Williamsport, Pa.—(AP)—Maybe the lighted, rotating cross attracted the pigeons.
 Anyway, they like the unusual tower atop the Pine street Methodist church in Williamsport, Pa. They stayed long enough to deposit a layer of manure 9 to 12 inches thick on the tower floor at the base of the revolving cross.
 When a steeplejack was repairing the church tower, he found two tons of pigeon manure which filled 100 bags weighing more than 100 pounds each.
 Repairs already costing more than $1,500 have been made, and the job won't be complete until a fine wire mesh screen is placed over the slats in the tower windows to keep out the pigeons.
 Arnold A. Phipps, chairman of the church building committee, estimated that the pigeons had been roosting in the 185-foot tower approximately 20 years since it was last cleaned and repaired.

parishioners asked their German pastor, the Rev. Ernst Gess, and the American, the Rev. Dr. Arthur Siebens of Toledo, Ohio, if they would like bells. Certainly, they would like bells.

He Learns What the Well-Read Red Must Know

Bells Ring Out In Berlin

Berlin—(AP)—The Germans found a leak in the Soviet blockade. So church bells rang Sunday morning. Neither the German nor the American pastor of the church asked their parishioners where the two new bells came from. They accepted them, gratefully, dedicated them and the American community in Zehlendorf was awakened a recent Sunday morning by a familiar sound.
 This happened in the Church of Ernst Moritz Arndt. It is used by a German Evangelical congregation at 9 o'clock each Sunday and by American Protestants at 11 o'clock.
 Some months ago the German parishioners asked their German pastor, the Rev. Ernst Gess, and the American, the Rev. Dr. Arthur Siebens of Toledo, Ohio, if they would like bells. Certainly, they would like bells.

 The Germans scuttled over into the Soviet zone and made a deal for casting two new bells. When the job was finished, they smuggled the bells out of the Soviet zone and into western Berlin. How you smuggle bells past traffic roadblocks probably belongs in the same category with how one steals a steamroller.
 They were the first bells to be heard in the Zehlendorf-Dahlem area since Hitler corralled all the chiming and turned them into machine-deeded scrap for his war machine more than eight years ago.
 It Pays To ADVERTISE

GERMANS HAVE "PIRACY" DISPUTE
 Berlin—(AP)—There's a small war of words going on between the German fishermen of the Russian occupation zone and those of the British zone. The Russian zone fishermen are accusing their western counterparts of "piracy" in the Baltic fishing fields. They claim the westerners are coming within the three mile limit of Soviet zone ports and stealing eastern nets.
 Recently a group of fishermen from Mecklenburg, Soviet zone, got together for a protest meeting. They adopted a resolution demanding adoption of measures to stop this "piracy" which they claimed was "hateful action intended to sabotage our tireless efforts at reconstruction and raising our living standard."

202 Youngsters Gussed How Santa Would Arrive Here

A total of 207 boys and girls in the Jacksonville area correctly gussed the way in which Santa Claus would arrive in Jacksonville on Nov. 28. These youngsters will receive free tickets to any of the Fox theatres, good during the month of December.
 All except ten of the winners will receive their tickets by mail. Ten of the entries either had no address or failed to give the last name so it was impossible to mail the tickets to the winners. Chamber officials stated Tuesday that those who gussed correctly but did not receive their tickets should come to the Chamber of Commerce office.
 Santa Claus continues to maintain hours in his headquarters located in Central Park each afternoon from 2 to 4 p. m. Many youngsters visit him daily and especially each afternoon at 3 p. m., at which time the boys and girls are interviewed over the radio. Santa will continue to stay in his hut each week day from now until Christmas.

Jersey Co. Farm Adviser Honored By National Group

Jerseyville — C. T. Kibler, farm adviser of Jersey county, was one of three farm advisers in Illinois honored by the National Association of County Agricultural Agents at the annual meeting and banquet held at the Edgewater Beach hotel in Chicago. The three received the Distinguished Service award offered by the association.

Kibler was recently nominated for reception of the award by the Illinois State Association of County Agricultural Agents, and accepted by the national committee to receive the honor.

Accompanying the award was a recognition of a number of outstanding projects carried out in Jersey county as a result of the suggestion, planning and initiative of Farm Adviser Kibler. Some of the most outstanding projects have been the control of Bang's disease in cattle in the county; soil improvement programs and various crop improvement projects; the first train load of phosphate to be shipped into any one county in the United States at one time; 4-H club organization and local soil testing laboratory.

Kibler came to Jersey county and took over the farm adviser work in March, 1930. He was graduated from the University of Illinois in 1921 and until 1927 operated a dairy farm of his own. He went to Clay county in 1927 as farm adviser and from Kane to Jersey county.

RUSSIANS FIND ANCIENT CITY
Moscow—(AP)—The ruins of Kolodiyazhin, one of the ancient cities of Kiev, Russia, has been discovered. The newspaper Gudok said a Ukrainian expedition headed by V. K. Goncharov found the once powerful fortress city which was besieged by the Tartars without success. The gates of Kolodiyazhin were finally opened by trickery on the part of the Tartars and because of its heroic resistance it was burned and all the inhabitants cut to pieces. Excavations reveal the city was surrounded by double ramparts with double trenches. Many Slav and Tartar armaments have been found including arrows, axes and spears.

Another Mayan Ruin Found

Mexico City — (AP) — Discovery of the ruin of another ancient Mayan city in Quintana Roo Territory has been reported to the National Museum of Anthropology and History. Archeologist Cesar Lizardi Ramos, a specialist in Mayan hieroglyphics, said inscriptions on two obelisks are dated between 778 and 783 A.D.

The ruins are in Yucatan, 38 miles west of the former Mayan capital, Carrillo Puerto. A Mayan farmer told of finding inscribed stones on his jungle lands in 1944. Lizardi Ramos heard about it recently through a report to the Department of Education, and went to investigate.

He reported finding numerous small mounds covered by dense vegetation, many with signs of old construction. He found the two obelisks, a large altar with inscriptions, and two smaller altars without writing. The writing on the large altar is worn and difficult to make out, Lizardi Ramos said. Apparently it is not dated, he added.

Poland To Change Banks

Warsaw, Poland — (AP) — The National Bank of Poland is reorganizing its financial system to make national economics conform to "socialistic economics." Edward Droniak, a vice-minister of finance and president of the bank, said a new decree on the banking system would be issued by the government shortly.

The decree provides, among other things, for broader nationalization of all banking activities. It also sets up a system of investment, farm, communal, savings, and trade and commerce banks. A special bank for foreign commerce is being created. Droniak pointed out there had been no reforms in the Polish banking operations since 1945.

Dorothy Gardner Becomes Bride of Wayne R. Kehl

Jerseyville—The marriage of Dorothy Gardner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Stanton of Jerseyville, and Wayne Robert Kehl of Jacksonville took place Thanksgiving Day at the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Kehl, in Jacksonville. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Roy S. Hulan, pastor of Central Christian church.

Miss Leona Stanton was attired in a black suit with red accessories and a corsage of red carnations. Miss Barbara Stanton's costume was of navy blue, worn with red accessories. Her flowers were white carnations.

Following the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Kehl left for a short wedding trip and will reside in an apartment on East Court street, Jacksonville. The bride is a graduate of the Jersey Township High school. Mr. Kehl attended the Jacksonville schools. Both are employed at J. Capps and Sons in Jacksonville. The groom is a veteran of World War II and served overseas in the Pacific area.

NO NOISE IS GOOD NEWS

AFTER 20,000 miles or more of hard driving, even the best clutch needs a going over to keep it smooth. Worn facings or facings that are loose on the face plate can make a clutch chatter like a school-girl.

If miles and miles of service have made your Buick's clutch too "talkative," we'll bring it back to new-car dependability and quietness with Buick methods and Buick factory-engineered parts.

Whatever work we do on your car, you can count on us for real Buick service and factory-engineered Buick parts. That's the combination that keeps your Buick always a Buick.
